

Aerial view of Verdala RN Primary School, Malta around 1960 - playground, classrooms, crocodile of children, palm tree, climbing frame and all!

The junior school opened on this site in about 1952 and closed when the British were 'asked to leave' Malta in 1979

Dear Sir

If you have a suitable notice board seen by your members, I wonder if you would be kind enough to display the enclosed flyer.

Many former pupils of this school found their years in Malta a highlight of their childhood. Now aged in their late 30s to 60s they are scattered round the world and hard to locate so we are trying any way we can to alert them to the school's website and the coming reunion. Your help would therefore be very much appreciated.

Many thanks
